Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-9, 23-26 drawn to a computerized system for diagnosing and treating maladies in a patient which comprise: a computer system, a meridian linking function, a data access point stabilizing function, a filter testing function, an amplification function and a remedy finding function; and a meridian linking diagnostic and treatment device; methods of using the system, classified in class 702, subclass 19.
- II. Claims 10-12, drawn to a computer system which comprises a primary control unit, an interface, a filter generator, a stylus and a secondary control unit, classified in class 382, subclass 314.
- III. Claims 13-21, drawn to a computer program product which comprises code that outputs a point stabilizing factor, and code that outputs a meridian linking factor, classified in class 703, subclass 11.
- IV. Claim 22, drawn to a computer readable media which stores a database, classified in class 707, subclass 102.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Each of inventions I-IV are drawn to differing products/systems. Each system or product is independent and distinct. Computer system I of Group I comprises differing physical and computer elements than the Computer system of Group II. The computer of group II requires differing physical hardware (a stylus) and different control units. The system of Group I does not require a stylus, and it does require differing programmed functions such as a prescription administration function. The computer systems of Groups I and II are each independent and distinct from the computer program product and computer readable media of Groups III and IV. The systems of Groups I and II do not require the programs or databases of Groups III and IV, and the programs and databases can be used for other purposes. The computer program product of Group III is independent and distinct from the computer readable media of Group IV. The program contains code for performing certain mathematic functions, while the media of Group IV merely stores data in a database. Each Invention requires substantially differing strategies in differing areas of patent and non-patent literature. Therefore, the search of four independent and distinct inventions would pose an undue burden upon the examiner if not restricted.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

IF the examiner has required restriction between product and process claims: Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder.

Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP 804.01.
